LUCKY CLOVER 4-H CLUB

Our December meeting was held at Cheryl Adams' house. The vice-president, Tommy Williams, called the meeting to order. The pledges to the flags were led by Angie Murray and Shelly Smith. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Old business was share-the-fun and the awards banquet. New business was the Christmas party to be given December 20 at 2:30 to the kindergarten. Mr. Sweet reminded us of the public speaking contest. Miss Smith had the program on Christmas crafts. Refreshments were served and then the meeting was adjourned. We would like to thank Miss Smith for coming and doing our program.

Farm Bureau Makes Recommendations

The Virginia Farm Bureau Federation has made two strongly-worded recommendations to increase agricultural exports as a step in improving income of farmers, and relieving hunger in developing nations.

In a letter to President Carter, VFBF President Robert B. Delano called for task forces to sell American agricultural surpluses abroad and requested an end to delays in exports through the Food for Peace Program.

Delano said that current storage holdings and over-production in some states, plus severe crop losses in other states have caused low prices and economic losses to farmers.

"We urge you to mobilize a major export promotion program for American agricultural products," Delano said in his letter to the White House. "We recommend the use of organized task forces . . . to visit other countries and aggressively sell our surpluses."

Delano also called for promoting a new provision of the Export Administration Amendemnts of 1977 that permits foreign countries to buy American grain and store it in America as a reserve.

Referring to delays in the Food for Peace Program, Delano said, "We feel this is an inappropriate time to use the grain reserves of farmers as a political instrument against the hungry and malnourished people of the world.

"The delay of implementing the Food for Peace Program over the human rights issue is costing American farmers millions of dollars in low grain prices.

"I request that you give the Food for Peace Program priority attention and take immediate action to insure that the demands of countries that qualify for Public Law 480 (Food for Peace) shipments be fulfilled without delay.

"The United States has been criticized for not responding to the needs of hungry people of undeveloped countries," Delano said. "Our agricultural system has an excess reserve which can and should be distributed to relieve hunger.

"Freedom From Hunger is also a human rights issue," Delano said.

The Virginia Farm Bureau is a Federation of 86 county Farm Bureaus, representing more than 55,500 Virginia farm families. Delano is also national vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which has a membership of nearly three million farm families.

THE KING

J. C. Rogers, Jr.
Age 11

When Mary saw her little child,
lying in the trough;
She knew He'd save the People,
but many others would laugh
and scoff.
He looked at her as though
He secretly did know;
That He was King of Nations,
Lord of all creations,
Sent from God above,
To teach us how to love.

Many years ago this happened,
But if we still believe;
The promises from God,
We will receive.

If you have faith in Jesus and
do what he says;
He will take you to Heaven,
For this Land is His.
